Shaveka Antonique Cleare

Profile:

My name is Shaveka Antonique Cleare. I am an active volunteer for AIDS/ HIV center, and a student at the College of the Bahamas where I am pursuing a bachelor's degree in biology with chemistry. At the College I am the former senator for science and technology, and President of the environmental club. I am a member of the emerging leaders club and Alpha sigma Pi success networking team.

After my tenure at The College of the Bahamas, I plan to go to medical school at the university of the West Indies in hopes of becoming a medical doctor and eventually a heart surgeon. I am currently a member of the Bahamas National Youth Council where the aim is to achieve the proper representation of youth across the Commonwealth of The Bahamas and empower young Bahamians, to actively participate in the shaping and molding of their society.

I am a past Most Distinguished student in Bahamian high school and I graduated in the top five percentile

I am a Christian and a member of Wings as Eagles Ministries, where I serve as a member of the beautification team and a Spanish translator

In May of this year I was granted the opportunity to represent my school at the 14th annual Global leadership conference, where I presented my leadership prospectus and participated in the world forum debate. I met hundreds of young persons from all over the Caribbean and countries around the world. While there I discovered my desire to bring about change in all aspects of my community and my love of learning about other cultures. Since then God has continue to provide me with opportunities, the most recent becoming a student ambassador at the college

My desire for change in the environment and society has inspired me to want to be elected to the Board of Management of the CYEN.

I am grateful to God for allowing me to embark on all of the wonderful opportunities thus far; and without him none of these would be possible.
